Re: Alliance Global Group, Inc. 2012 General Information Sheet

Gentlemen:

We reply to your letter dated May 31, 2013, which was received on 25 June 2013, where the Company is directed to submit an amended 2012 General Information Sheet (GIS) showing the Company's secondary license, date of issuance and date it started operations and to explain why it should not be penalized for said omission.

We respectfully submit that the Company's failure to indicate a secondary license was due to inadvertence and unintentional and was done in good faith. The Company did not consider itself to be subject to any secondary license that is required to be indicated in the GIS. In its understanding from the website of this Honorable Commission, the requirement of a secondary license refers to corporations engaged in an industry required to register with another government agency which include, among others, banks and financial institutions (with the BSP), insurance (with the Insurance Commission), investment house, broker/dealer of securities and other regulated industries. Since the Company is a holding company and not engaged in any regulated business, it did not consider the requirement of a secondary license as applicable to it. Thus, it did not consider the Certificate of Permit to Offer Securities for Sale (wherein the Corporation was allowed to sell its shares) as a secondary license. The said Certificate also covers the sale of shares which the Company is already allowed to do under its registration with this Honorable Commission (as part of its powers as a corporation). Also, since the Company is a publicly-listed corporation that submits regular reportorial requirements, it has previously disclosed the information in the said Certificate and such information is already available to the public. Thus, the Company respectfully submits that the omission of this information in the GIS is not material and did not deceive the public as the public was already aware of this information as early as 1999 when it first listed its shares in the stock exchange and in its subsequent disclosures and annual reports.

In compliance with the directive of this Honorable Commission, attached is an amended 2012 GIS indicating the required information on the secondary license on page 7. We respectfully pray for the good Commission's understanding and that the Company will not be monetarily penalized. The Company also assures this Honorable Commission that it will be more careful in its future reports to avoid any similar incident.

Very truly yours,

DOMINIC V. ISBERTO
Corporate Secretary
